CAT TENT

To maintain a calm environment for feline patients, the surgical teams set up a dedicated cat tent.

Anesthesia, vaccinations, surgery and recovery all happen in a quiet, out-of-the-way location, and then volunteers ferry crated kitties back to their owners for discharge.

RECOVERY 1

Surgical team volunteers and veterinary staff remove breathing tubes while patients rest on soft beds.

SURGICAL TEAMS

During this event, the veterinary team came from Helping Paws Across Borders. Each Spayathon site has a team from a different group, but all the veterinarians and technicians are experts in high-quality, high-volume spay/neuter surgeries.

VACCINES AND MEDICATIONS

Although spay/neuter surgeries are the main draw for Spayathon's attendees, vaccinations are an added bonus. Thanks to donations from caring organizations, eligible dogs receive vaccinations against rabies, leptospirosis, distemper and parvo, while cats get rabies and FVRCP vaccinations.

Humans go home with flea/tick preventatives to give their pets later.

RECOVERY 2

Once patients get the all-clear, they head to the second recovery area, where they're reunited with their families. Pups wake up next to the humans they love and trust, and when they're cleared to go, ground team volunteers hand out rabies certificates and giveaways.

Many hands

Each Spayathon coalition partner has a crucial role to play in a pet's journey through surgery and back to her family. This photo—taken in Humacao during the fifth round—provides a behind-the-scenes look at a pet's journey and highlights the generous partners who help make each part of Spayathon happen.
