

BLACK

is the new black

We black cats aren't flashy or garish. We share an understated elegance that any person of taste will appreciate. People call us pocket panthers and give us classy names like Midnight and Mystique.

And forget that superstitious nonsense: We think we're pretty lucky. Our glossy black coats never go out of style.

So take a moment to get to know us. We're as companionable as the next cat, but we'll also add a touch of sophistication to your home.
